Call for Research Assistant - Shamir's Lab:

We are seeking a research assistant for a project on Machine-Learning for Healthcare at Shamir's lab, CS School.
The candidate should be a graduate student or a 3rd year undergraduate student in CS/ Bioinformatics/ Statistics/ Engineering.
Responsibilities include processing real-world clinical data, statistical analysis, and machine-learning application, under the guidance of PhD student.

Requirements:
- Python (including packages such as pandas, numpy, etc.)
- Ability to work independently and proactively
- Desirable: Background in Data Science and Machine-Learning

Interested candidates are welcome to submit their CVs to omernoy@mail.tau.ac.il